CEO MESSAGE

As fall approaches and kids are resuming school, though a bit differently this year, families tend to see household expenses start to creep upward. Perhaps you've had a few home repairs, or splurged a little on some summer fun. Now you're thinking about school supplies, books and activities. Now is a great time to start making some extra income with the help of a Gano Excel home-based business!

You may be thinking about how to "do it all." Sharing with Gano Excel couldn't be more simple. Do you know someone who could use an extra cup of coffee? How about a cup of coffee with loads of health benefits thanks to our superior Ganoderma lucidum? Talking with someone over a cup of coffee can even be done virtually during times of quarantine.

You may even realize that you can do more from home than you first thought. All it takes is some inspiration. Once you gain some momentum, you just may surprise yourself! With every meeting, sale or enrollment, not only are you running a business for yourself...you are helping others by spreading the goodness of Ganoderma! What's more, you are providing the inspiration that someone else needs to take those first important steps.

People helping people is one of the most inspiring actions we can take, and it happens every day. All around the world, and here in the United States. After all, someone had the courage to share the amazing ways Ganoderma lucidum can support your health. Now, it's your turn to make a difference in the life of a friend, family member, neighbor, or even a stranger. It can start with a simple cup of coffee and a conversation. It can lead to doing more, earning more and living more.

So much is possible when we SHARE.

Sincerely,

Mr. Ooi Chin Aik,
Chief Executive Officer, Gano Excel | North America

HOW JASMINE CROWE IS WORKING TO END FOOD WASTE

Achieving harmony on a global scale takes people who act when they see a need. It takes people who are willing to think creatively and overcome challenges. It takes people who put their “why” at the forefront of their minds and their mission. These leaders care deeply about the people around them and work to create a solution where everyone wins.

In 1995, Mr. Leow Soon Seng did this when he saw the potential for Ganoderma lucidum to make a difference in the lives of billions of people around the world. Ganoderma had already been long known in traditions in Asia for its benefits to the body. However, because it was rare, it came at a steep price. Mr. Leow envisioned a way to cultivate Ganoderma lucidum on a massive scale without losing any of the potency or purity of the mushroom. Instead of giving it away, he would empower millions of people around the world to share Ganoderma lucidum with the opportunity to earn profits, commissions and bonuses. By providing both health and wealth, he would further strengthen healthy lifestyles for everyone.

Another business leader that is on a mission to help the world is Jasmine Crowe. After years of working with nonprofits to help the hungry in her hometown of Atlanta, Georgia, she realized that the way society was trying to solve the problem wasn't working. Food banks and drives have been around for decades. Still, 1 in 9 U.S. households were met with food insecurity in 2018. She decided to work on a new solution. She saw an opportunity to take advantage of the 75 billion pounds of unsold edible food thrown away each year and simply redirect it to people who needed it. This wasn't a food scarcity problem, it was a matter of logistics.

Like Mr. Leow, Crowe saw the business potential in her solution. Crowe started Goodr, her food redistribution company in 2018 to eliminate food waste. She looked at where good food was being wasted most. Instead of relying on charity food drives, she decided she would make a business proposition to restaurants, cafes, and markets in her local area. These businesses can donate food in exchange for a tax write off to offset the cost of the food that would have gone to waste. By reverse engineering the same technology that allows food delivery apps to track customer orders, Crowe developed a way for businesses to track the food they donate. The platform also provides insights into what foods are regularly being wasted and at what amounts. This helps the business make smarter purchases and save money from beginning to end.

In addition to feeding vulnerable populations, Goodr was able to partner with Atlanta Public Schools in 2020 to provide school lunches to 40,000 students during the school closures caused by COVID-19. Goodr now operates in 7 U.S. cities and hopes to expand to 20 by the end of 2020.

You can join the likes of Mr. Leow and Jasmine Crowe with your Gano Excel business. Like them, you have the opportunity to spread good throughout your household, community and beyond. For you, the business has already been built! You have great products ready to be shared, global logistics with the ability to deliver products straight to customers' doors, and a compensation plan with 11 amazing ways to earn! Your part is simple: you care about sharing health and wealth with others!

RELAXING ACTIVITIES YOU CAN SHARE

These days, everyone could use less stress in their lives. Stress is an important part of the body's response to challenges. Chemicals that are triggered by stress send the body into overdrive in order to achieve success. However, this response is meant to be a temporary solution to a temporary problem. Since the stress response makes the body work harder, a sustained level of stress can wear on the body and cause it to age faster. Think of a car engine that is pushed to its maximum capacity over a long period of time. When pushed to its limit, the engine can overheat and become vulnerable to permanent damage.

As a leader in the health and wellness industry, you are helping to reduce stress through the goodness of Ganoderma lucidum. Ganoderma's antioxidants help your body to reduce its exposure to oxidative stress. It's adaptogenic properties also help modulate your immune system. Daily consumption of Ganoderma-enriched products helps deliver these important nutrients so that these benefits can be generated over time. In the long run, recommending these products to friends, family and other contacts is a great way to promote a healthy lifestyle.

In the meantime, grab a cup of GanoCafé and set up a video call with one or more of your loved ones. We've found some fun and stress-relieving activities you can do with others virtually! You can even send them a care package with some samples of GanoCafé to enjoy together while you connect on your call.

Zoom Karaoke

Shortly before your Zoom call, set up a viewing room on Watch2Gether.com and share the link with your participants. Find videos and karaoke sing-a-longs to view together in Watch2Gether while you all watch each other having fun via Zoom! Each participant can add new songs to the queue.

Guided Meditation

Find a simple guided meditation such as the Body Scan Meditation for Beginners at Mindful.org. We prefer a simple audio over video since most mindfulness exercises involve closing your eyes and paying attention to your body and thoughts. Listen together as a group, or send privately to a friend in need.

Create Artwork

Download a free coloring page from resources like JustColor.net. Or perhaps you want to freestyle with watercolor paints. Have everyone join with whatever art supplies they have! You can connect with each other while exercising some creativity, and show off your artwork at the end of the meeting.

Make Guacamole

Or whatever your secret recipe is! It takes some planning ahead, but can be easily arranged. Think of something that is simple, quick and affordable. We think guacamole is perfect. Have everyone follow the same recipe or make it a competition. When done, be sure to take the time to enjoy your creation and continue the conversation.

Share a Gratitude Circle

Group sharing and prayer can be a huge help to relieving stress. Go around the group and make sure everyone gets a turn if they'd like. Each person can share blessings, challenges and something she is looking forward to. Focus on what to be thankful for in each circumstance.

“What lies behind you and what lies in front of you, pales in comparison to what lies inside of you.” – Ralph Waldo Emerson

COFFEE & OATMEAL COOKIE SMOOTHIE

Introducing a delicious breakfast smoothie that has all of the flavors of a warm cinnamon oatmeal cookie mixed with your favorite morning coffee! GanoCafé 3-in-1 adds the perfect blend of sweet and creamy coffee enriched with Ganoderma lucidum. Add a touch of cinnamon and vanilla and a handful of ground oats to create a yummy fresh-baked cookie flavor!

Ingredients:

- 1 sachet GanoCafé 3-in-1
- ½ cup hot water
- ½ cup unsweetened almond milk
- ¼ cup old-fashioned oats
- 1 frozen (peeled) banana
- ½ tsp. ground cinnamon
- ½ tsp. vanilla extract

Directions:

1. Empty sachet contents into a mug and mix with hot water until smooth. Allow to cool to room temperature. Slowly stir in unsweetened almond milk until combined (you should have 1 cup).
2. Place old-fashioned oats in a blender and pulse until finely ground. Add the peeled banana, coffee mixture, cinnamon and vanilla. Pulse and blend until smooth.
3. Pour into a tall glass and enjoy!

NUTRITIONAL FACT:

Cinnamon is loaded with a natural compound known as cinnamaldehyde. It has shown in studies to have anti-inflammatory properties that benefit overall health! Plus it adds its characteristic warm flavor and aroma to everything you mix it with. It can balance out the natural bitter flavor of Ganoderma lucidum, another natural product known for its anti-inflammatory activity.

LEADERSHIP SPOTLIGHT JERSIS APARICIO HERNANDEZ

EXECUTIVE DIAMOND

Jersis lives in Sacramento, California with her husband and children. Born in El Salvador, she moved to the United States as a child and has lived in California ever since. She learned about Gano Excel from her brother-in-law while visiting him in Oregon for Thanksgiving one year. He had seen firsthand the effects that Ganoderma was having on his physical health and couldn't say enough about how happy he was. Jersis and her husband were fascinated and had to know more about Ganoderma lucidum. Jersis then began to enrich her diet with Ganoderma lucidum to support her kidney health. She fell in love with the herb and has made it her passion to share Ganoderma with all of the people in her life. She loves having work that helps people in a tangible way.

At the time, she worked for the State of California's Franchise Tax Board that collects income tax from individuals and corporations. It was not as fulfilling to her, but it gave her the opportunity to SHARE the health benefits of Ganoderma with the many people with whom she had contact for work. It sparked a vision for bringing healthy products to people that she still continues to this day.

Jersis loves that her Gano Excel business affords her more control over her time than she ever had with a traditional job. She enjoys taking her children to school and spending time with her family. She also can decide for herself when she wants to take time off or travel. Jersis has traveled with Gano Excel on trips to New York, Hawaii and Malaysia. She is inspired to SHARE these lifestyle changes with other Hispanic women who may feel confined at work or at home.

She is thankful that the Gano Excel opportunity endures during a season when many jobs are being cut or being reduced. As long as she continues to SHARE, she can earn income towards meeting her financial goals. She has already earned enough to purchase the car of her choice, and one for her husband as well. She feels she is in the right place in order to advance and succeed at her speed and for her goals, not for someone else.

She has learned much about leadership over the years, including how to be a better problem solver, teacher and communicator. She spends her time teaching her team and communicating with them throughout the week. She's learned the value of being available to answer questions and practice with newer Affiliates in her organization. She recently mastered the use of Zoom video conferencing which has brought her team together closer than ever. The technology has allowed her to accomplish more from the comfort and safety of her home while also reaching farther to people outside of her geographical area.

She is inspired by her mentor, Mr. Freddie Aguirre, who has supported her over the past 6 years. She also draws inspiration from Royal Diamond Ana Lorena Aguilar, who has accomplished so much, and Premier Diamond Blanca Solorio and Premier Diamond Rocio Peralta who have become great teachers and motivators. "Find leaders who have already achieved the goals you want to achieve," says Jersis. "Keep reaching the goals that you have set for yourself."

OMAIRA RAMOS BARRETO

FONTANA, CA

Omaira Barreto has been with Gano Excel for three wonderful years.

Friends Clara Arjona and Juan Pinzon, Diamond, introduced her and her teenage daughter to Gano Excel's Ganoderma-enriched products. Omaira's daughter began using the Excellium supplement and loved how clear her mind felt. She was able to focus more and felt healthier than before. Her positive experience has led Omaira to SHARE again and again about the benefits of Ganoderma lucidum with others.

When Omaira learned that she could create income for herself by sharing about these products that she loved, it felt like a dream come true. She asked herself, "why not?" and decided to give herself the opportunity that Gano Excel offered. Her friends, Clara and Juan, became her mentors and little by little she began to develop her business. She says that like every new beginning, it took some learning, but sharing was so natural and simple to do. She knew it was the right decision when she started to see the paychecks start coming in.

Since she started with Gano Excel, Omaira says the checks have never stopped coming, even during the current pandemic. "It is so motivating to see a check come each week," she says. Each week, she can see the direct impact her efforts have on her check. "If you want a little, you try a little, and you make a little. If you want more, then you work harder and you will make that much more." Her daughter has been inspired by watching her mother succeed in business. "Now my daughter is even saying that she wants to enroll and become a Diamond with Gano Excel. She's a huge inspiration for me."

She is delighted that her Gano Excel business allows her to work from the comfort of her home. She can do business from wherever she wants. Thanks to technology, she is able to utilize virtual meetings, corporate presentations and her Back Office all from home. She also loves that she gets to see and hear about the benefits that Ganoderma lucidum brings to people. The impact makes all the difference. "A friend will begin talking to me about her health and so I offer her one simple cup of coffee," she says. "It is incredible that through that simple and delicious cup of coffee, people thank me." Not only does she witness a difference being made in the lives of others, but she is able to achieve her own dreams and goals with the income that she makes from her business.

She is thankful for the support of her husband, Manuel Ramos. His dedication and understanding toward her business has been a huge blessing. She is also grateful for the leadership of Clara and Juan, and the examples set by Royal Diamonds Ruben and Maggie Cardenas. She praises Ruben and Maggie for their tireless commitment to teaching the business and achieving their goals. When she looks at all they have achieved she feels her eyes are opened to what is possible through Gano Excel. "They have so much heart. They do not give up on people. They persevere and help people to achieve what they want. It is such an inspiration to me." Finally, she is thankful for the strength and inspiration that she receives from Jesus Christ, who she says gives her every gift and every blessing. She looks forward to many more years with Gano Excel and hopes to visit the birthplace of Gano Excel in Malaysia very soon. "I know that I will achieve it, because Gano Excel has everything for us to make it possible."
